

Making Inferences with Data

Making Connections
I use my prior knowledge of the subject area, my own experiences, and generalizations and principles about the content to find connections and make logical inferences.	I use information from a variety of sources to make inferences about information.	Sometimes, I use what I already know to make inferences, but some of them do not really make sense.	I do not think about what I am learning beyond just the facts.
Monitoring
I continually make inferences about new information, revising them when I find out more information.	I make new inferences and revise old ones as I learn more information.	If I am reminded, I make new inferences and revise old ones as I learn more information.	I do not make new inferences as I learn.
